Q: Do I need IDocs to generate dynamic PDFs in SharePoint 2007? I am generating dynamic PDFs in a SharePoint 2007 site. I have read that IDocs are not needed. I am actually using JWebControls to render the PDF, with a sample code provided for that. Are IDocs required for this functionality or is there any other way to achieve this? A: IDocs are required to generate dynamic PDFs. I've found the following code samples online. I can't say I've tested this, but the samples look pretty straightforward. I was just wondering if there was a way to make them work without IDocs

A measure of primary care physician effectiveness. A definition of the ideal physician. The effectiveness of a physician cannot be evaluated in isolation. An ideal physician would be one who is competent and willing to assume responsibility for the care of a particular set of patients; who has a genuine desire to care for that set of patients; who is committed to the production of future-oriented citizens; who is an important person in the communities in which he practices, and who provides continuity and a stable relationship with his patients. The ideal
