Microsoft decided on the "steam" registry key to store their default download directory. This directory will always be found at "c:\users\username\appdata\roaming" (the Default Download directory) and it will hold a steam.exe.appdata.xml file. The registry of Windows is a big cause of Steam_API.dll errors. The problem with this part of your PC is that its continually being used so much that Windows either becomes damaged, corrupted, or unable to process the important settings that it requires to run. In order to resolve this problem, you can use a registry cleaner tool to scan through your PC and fix the various problems that will be leading Steam_API.dll to show errors. Its either going to find some problematic files or it wont (if it wont, you'll have to reinstall the game by deleting all local files, one tab above vigc button, and then install the game through library). Download steam api.dll for call of duty black ops 2 the installer required steam_api64.dll to be in the same location as the game (which in this case was c. The first and most probable cause is that this file has not been copied to the installation folder. In many cases, when installing a game or game client, the programmers and users will install the file in the program's folder. And they usually do this because that is the only way to be sure that the program is installed and working well. So, you just have to make sure that the Steam_API.dll file is in the installation directory. Otherwise, it will not work. If you have not been able to resolve the installation problem by forcing Steam and your program to accept the Steam_API.dll file, try updating other programs on your PC. If you are an old PC gamer, you will need to keep your antivirus software up to date. If you are an avid PC gamer like me, you will realize the importance of updating other programs before the need. However, you can only do this when you are sure that your Steam is updated and working fine. Both Microsoft Security Essentials and Kaspersky Internet Security always give you the option to update them automatically. Kaspersky has more options for this service.
