The TOOLBUS interface for Enterprise Architect and CA ERwin provides a bi-directional transformation of UML class models. (Figure 15). Figure 15 - Interface TOOLBUS for Enterprise Architect. During operation, the interface can use three types of data: - the data to be stored in the tables of the database model; - data to define the user interface; - data for defining processes. To work with the user interface, the Data Access element is used (Fig. 16). Figure 16 - Data elements that are available in TOOLBUS for Enterprise Architect and CA ERwin
